

After reading this short report about the testing on animals I have got to say that this is one of the most disgusting excuses to perform an experiment on an animal or to even contribute to the name of science that I have ever heard....why would we use animals at all....if a substance is known to kill if it's eaten or taken internally then why would we test to know exactly how much, dead is dead, and how many animals have to be tortured in order to find these things out? The fact that you do these tests and you are deliberate in your application of a substance shows just how sick we (people) are that we would come up with this as a proper experiment in the name of science. It's murder, but by one of the worst methods, torture from poisoning and force fed at that! You people call yourself scientist! I am a firm believer in science but I want nothing to do with anything like this! Why isn't it common knowledge that this type of experimentation is done at all, it's obvious to me that these are the types of things that people would like to keep quiet because it's not humane or would not be approved by the public Do you really believe that you will not be held accountable for this kind of behavior! For every action there is a reaction....and the action that you take against ANY living creature your are held accountable for and there will be a price to pay for those actions. What exactly have we found out by torturing these animals? Have we improved anything that was worth the cost that we pay for committing such a crime! This is an atrocity! This is a form of violence not only against animals and the earth but against man for being so cruel and disgusting. When will we ever learn that what we do comes back to us! The people who perform such experiments and feel that they are doing no wrong are not fit to be called moral! This kind of testing against animals has got to stop and stop completely! This is an atrocity just as bad as the mad science of the Holocaust! To do experimentation to see what happens, while knowing the that the bottom line is that it kills, and thinking that because we are not doing it to humans (that I know of!) makes it alright, It is not alright at all, it's wrong, it's immoral and it's inhumane!
